

On June 2nd, I urge you to retain the current ownership rules. We need a diverse media, not one owned by an elite group of ultra-wealthy corporations. Keep the media regulated. De-regulation has failed time and again. Just look at the power crisis in California last year. That was the result of the de-regulation of the power markets. We need to have protections in place against giant corporations manipulating the media to undermine our democracy.